

National Rallies In Eighth To Trip American, 5-4

Triple By Mays Decides All-Star Tilt

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Willie Mays' 438-foot triple to the ivy-covered right-center field wall in the eighth inning gave the favored National League a 5-4 victory over the American League Tuesday in the 26th All-Star game.

Roy Face, Pittsburgh's unbeaten relief ace who hasn't lost since May 30, 1958, was knocked out of the box in the top half of the eighth by Gus Triandos' two-out double that pushed the Americans ahead briefly 4-3. But Johnny Antonelli of San Francisco saved Face and grabbed the victory by throwing only six pitches.

A lead-off, pinch single by Ken Boyer of St. Louis, a sacrifice by Pittsburgh's Dick Groat and a run-scoring single by Milwaukee's Hank Aaron preceded the smash by Mays of the San Francisco Giants. The two runs came off veteran Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees who had started the eighth.

Breaks Open
A quiet, orderly affair in the first six innings while Vice President Nixon and a capacity crowd basked in the warm sunshine, this game erupted into a frenzied battle of pinch hitters and pinch runners down the stretch.

Casey Stengel, manager of the New York Yankees, shuffled his talent so generously that six different men appeared in the seventh position in the batting order, originally inhabited by Washington's Harmon Killebrew. One of them, Pete Runnels of Boston, was taken out for another pinch hitter, Roy Sievers of Washington, before he ever got to the plate.

But in the end it was Mays' long drive off Ford that wrapped up the National victory, closing the American League's series lead to 15-11.

President Vetoes Bill On Housing

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, as expected, vetoed Tuesday a $1,375,000 housing bill, branding it extravagant and inflationary. He asked that Congress act quickly to give him "a sound and constructive bill."

What Congress will do about it was not indicated, as Democratic sponsors of the legislation busily did a bit of pulse feeling to guide their future actions. It seemed unlikely they could muster enough votes to override the veto.

However, the Senate Democratic leader, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, left open the way for such an effort by saying Eisenhower had taken an ill advised, politically partisan course.

Criticizing what he called Eisenhower's "all or nothing attitude," Johnson said: "I do not believe this kind of attitude will appeal to reasonable men and women."

Record Rates

Eisenhower told Congress that with new homes being built at near record rates he had been looking forward for many months to approving legislation along the lines he recommended last January. What he wanted, the President said, was a bill "that would further advance the cause of better housing for Americans within the limits of fiscal responsibility."

"To my disappointment," his veto message said, "the Congress has instead presented me with a bill so excessive in the spending it proposes and so defective in other respects, that it would do far more damage than good."

Placing emphasis on the costliness of the legislation, Eisenhower said "much of the spending it authorizes is unnecessary."

He especially criticized the 900-million-dollar urban renewal or slum clearance program as excessive and listed as unnecessary 190,000 additional public housing units, a housing program for elderly persons, expansion of the college housing loan program and a new college classroom program.

Also, Eisenhower said, under the bill the government could be obligated by at least an additional 2½ billion dollars. This, he said, compared to the administration's budget recommendation of $10 million dollars.

Pleasant Valley Opens Bids For New School

By Harlan Stone
BRODHEADSVILLE — There was a giant step taken forward last night toward the realization of the new Pleasant Valley Jointure junior-senior high school here.

The jointure's building authority opened base and alternate bids for general construction, electrical, plumbing, heating and ventilating work at a meeting in the Chestnut Hill High School.

The jointure board will meet again tonight to go over the alternate choices for different equipment and materials in the building plans.

Frank Fratley, of Rhoades, Simon and Reeder, Harrisburg, the jointure's bond counselors, said it will be sometime early in August before a bond issue can be awarded and the school is actually under construction.

Architect L. P. Kooker, New Oxford, said the school may still be completed by September, 1960, if the general contractor can lay foundation before he gets stuck in mud this winter.

The alternate bids were for different equipment and materials in the art, homemaking and music rooms, the science department, the library, the agricultural and industrial shops, the auditorium and the kitchen. Alternate bids were also taken on different types of floors, ceilings and doors.

Three extra classrooms will cost from $31,440 to $42,000, according to the general contracting bids.

There were eight bidders for general construction, six for electrical work, six for plumbing, and six for heating and ventilation.

General bidders include George R. Taylor and sons, Forty Fort; Boyd H. Kline, Bloomsburg; Paul L. Edinger, Stroudsburg; Gottlieb Schneider, Inc., Bethlehem; A. L. Rake and Son, East Stroudsburg; Goodman and Bell, Inc., Allentown; Joseph E. Heffernan and Son, Inc., Conshohocken, and H. E. Stout and Son, Allentown.

Electrical bidders included Easton Electro Construction Co., Wind Gap; William A. Donmoyer Co., Allentown; Larry S. Stout, Lehighton; M. L. Albarelli, Bethlehem; Jack Adler, Inc., Philadelphia, and McGee Electric Co., Jenkintown.

Plumbing bidders were M. F. Weiss, Brodheadsville; Anthony (Please Turn To Page Three)

East Borough To Protest Train Plan

By Don Allen

EAST STROUDSBURG Borough Council last night formally protested to the Interstate Commerce Commission a proposal by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad to drop two passenger trains serving the community.

The action was taken after David Bernbaum, president of the East Stroudsburg Businessmen's Assn., urged the action.

Bernbaum told council that in similar cases involving other railroads the initial cut in train service is only the beginning and eventually other trains are dropped.

He called the railroad practically "the only means of access to East Stroudsburg" and said visitors to the community, particularly during the Summer, contribute substantially to the borough's economy.

"Stroudsburg is not dependent upon the railroad directly," Bernbaum said in urging Council to act despite the fact that Stroudsburg Borough Council has taken no such action.

The protest was addressed to the ICC with a copy to Rep. Francis E. Walter of Easton, after C. R. Bensinger, borough solicitor, said that the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission has already filed a protest with the ICC against dropping the trains.

Bensinger said the PUC protest was based on the fact the railroad provided "no supporting evidence" to justify the curtailment of service.

He said the PUC has asked the ICC for hearings on the curtailment, but that the ICC is not bound by the PUC request.

Bensinger said the PUC suggested all communities affected by the railroad's action should ask the ICC for a hearing on the subject "so the railroad will have to prove its case."

In another request from the businessmen's group, Council suggested it contact the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. to determine the number of lights necessary and the cost to rehabilitate the borough's street lighting.

A spokesman for the businessmen said the group felt new street lighting would curb juvenile delinquency, improve the appearance of the town and show an indication of progress.

He pointed out that lights on the entrances of the Stroudsburg Thruway and the new inter-borough bridge will be modern fixtures compared to those currently in use in the borough.

In other action, Council awarded to Shamoon Industries, Inc., Phillipsburg, N.J., the contract for 1,500 feet of eight-inch cast iron pipe on its bid of $2.98 a foot.

Directed Sterling Cramer, borough manager, to ask the State Highways Department to widen the corner of S. Courtland and Bridge St., the proposal to have the department take over S. Courtland St. from Brown to Washington Sts. and to request permission to improve and beautify the area between the approaches to the new inter-borough bridge which will not be used for highway purposes.

Reappointed Robert R. Staples as the Council member on the Police Civil Service Commission.

Authorized proper officers to execute a right-of-way agreement with the Metropolitan Edison Co. for a line over water shed property.

Approved a report of the Police Civil Service Commission which suggested waiting for two or three months before holding another examination for patrolman.

Noted the receipt of an award of merit from the American Water Works Assn. to management and employees of the borough water department, "in recognition of an excellent safety record in the water works industry."

Approved a motion to notify property owners to repair their sidewalks as indicated by a recent sidewalk survey.

32 Fresh Air Children Arrive In Pocono Area

By Ency Schick

FRESH Air is abundant in the Poconos and it will be breathed deeply by the 32 children who arrived yesterday to spend two weeks in the Stroudsburg area. These children are sponsored by the Herald-Tribune Fresh Air Fund. Because of contributions to this fund hundreds of children from the streets of New York are able to see grass.

After many weeks of preparation and correspondence from the Poconos to New York, the day of arrival for the children was at hand. Amid tears and with trepidation, the 32 youngsters bid farewell to their relatives in New York and began their trip to Stroudsburg.

Homesickness was soon washed aside as the ferry docked at Hoboken. From there the children were put on the train. For many, this was the first time out of the city.

One little boy just sat in stunned silence as he watched the grass, trees, lakes and houses with yards flash by. Another little girl became so excited over seeing daisies along the tracks that she wanted to break through the train window to pick them.

Then there were the two boys with the great big brown eyes which flared with excitement (Please Turn to Page Three)

PUC Protests Against Plan To Abandon DL&W Trains

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Utility Commission Tuesday asked the federal Interstate Commerce Commission to hold hearings on a proposal by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad to drop two trains between Scranton and Hoboken, N.J.

Senate Trims Funds From Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate rebuffed President Eisenhower twice Tuesday night by trimming 383½ millions from his multimillion dollar foreign aid bill.

By a 52-41 roll call vote it cut 300 million dollars from the 1½ billion plus he requested for arms aid to America's free world allies.

Then, before abandoning work on the measure, it adopted, by a vote of 49-42, a second amendment cutting 83½ millions from the $35 million dollars Eisenhower asked for economic supports to help allies maintain their armed forces.

Further action on the bill was put off until this morning.

The two cutting actions reduced the bill's total to 3¼ billions against the nearly four billions Eisenhower asked and the just over 3½ billions voted by the House.

Foreign aid supporters of previous years joined the rebellion against the program of military and economic assistance abroad.

The vote reflected, among other things, Democratic resentment against Eisenhower's veto of the omnibus housing bill earlier in the day. Eisenhower called that bill extravagant and inflationary.

And it reflected growing sentiment in Congress that the administration is placing too heavy an emphasis on military aid rather than on economic assistance.

In the background too was a desire on the part of some to repay the President for his part in blocking a Senate Foreign Relations Committee-backed five-year, five-billion-dollar program of economic development loans to be financed by borrowings from the Treasury.

Sponsors of the development loan plan insisted that an Eisenhower-backed substitute calling for a two-year, two-billion-dollar program to be financed by congressional appropriations would fail to meet the need since the program lacks support in the House Appropriations Committee.

Tear Gas Ends Revolt In Prison

MONROE, Wash. (AP) — A surprise tear gas attack, triggered by death threats and children's cries, smashed a 13½-hour revolt by four tough young reformatory convicts at dawn Tuesday and freed 39 hostages.

The hostages, including 12 women, 8 children and 5 men visitors, were unharmed during the night of terror in which their captors strutted with bravado, waving butcher knives and long-tined forks.

The worst of the ordeal was the temporary blinding, burning effect of the powerful gas.

Also held in the abortive escape attempt by the rebels, who sought to flee to Canada 70 miles to the north, were three guards and 11 other inmates, who had been visiting with relatives.

Released Early

Another woman captive was released early in the uprising when she became ill. The four desperados were clubbed and beaten into submission in a bloody savage fight.

Cerebral Palsy Victim Unharmed

SIXTEEN-year-old Robert Ynott, a cerebral palsy victim, was found apparently unharmed by soldiers from the Tobyhanna Signal Depot yesterday. He had been missing since Saturday.

The search ended at 9:40 a.m., less than four miles from the Lynott family cottage. The youth was examined by Dr. John Davies of Moscow and pronounced in "excellent shape."

He told his rescuers he had subsisted on blueberries and swamp water during the almost three days he was missing. He was found by Sgt. Clement Hutchins of St. Petersburg, Fla., a member of the 128th Signal Co., at the northern edge of Brady's Lake, in the Pocono Lake-Tobyhanna region.

More than 100 soldiers and 300 civilians volunteers from Gouldsboro, Daleville, Moscow and Tobyhanna joined the search which covered an area of six square miles. State Police from Mount Pocono assisted.

The youth, a resident of Gouldsboro, was last seen by his mother Saturday afternoon when he told her he was going for a walk in the woods.

Leaders Of Search

Andy Major, a civilian employee at the Signal Corps Depot, headed the Gouldsboro volunteers and Al Spott, another employee, was in the search party at the time the youth was discovered.

First Lt. Norman Aukerman of Eton, Ohio, a member of the 510th Signal Co., headed the search team.

The search started Saturday night and continued until 4 a.m. Sunday, resumed at 6 a.m. Sunday and continued until 9:30 p.m.

The youth told his rescuers that he heard a bull horn used by troops Monday night, but was unable to answer. The disease has affected his speech.

His mother, Mrs. John Lynott, had given up hope of seeing the boy alive again. He also has a 13-year-old brother, Jackie, and a sister, Mary Jane, four.

Ike Wins As Art Critic

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower won out as an art critic Tuesday. As a result some old-fashioned U. S. paintings were rushed to the American exhibition in Moscow.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, has complained that more than half of the artists whose paintings originally were chosen have Red-tinted backgrounds. And caustic remarks about modern art marked a hearing his committee held on the question.

Damages Total $7,000 In Swiftwater Accident

SWIFTWATER — No one was injured but damages totaled $7,000 in an accident involving four cars and a building on Route 611 here at 9:20 a.m. yesterday.

State Police at Mount Pocono said a car driven by Joseph Rosentell, 47, of 552 N. Main St., Pittston, was traveling south on the highway when it struck a vehicle operated by William Willis, 60, of 54 Cannon St., Carbondale, which was turning onto the highway from Woodland Road.

Troopers said Rosentell's car then struck parked vehicles owned by Joseph Makuta, Hallandale, Fla., and Betty Cebula, Pitt-ton, forcing Makuta's car into a beauty shop at Highland Inn.

Both cars were parked in the inn's parking lot, troopers said. No charges were filed.

The car which plunged into the beauty shop narrowly missed Miss Cebula, an operator, and an unidentified customer in her chair.

SPECTATORS — These are some of the inmates at the Allentown State Hospital who attended the hospital's third annual Summer carnival yesterday. Monroe County Mental Health Assn. sponsored the ring-toss booth where 1,338 prizes were given out.

Mental Health Association Part Of Hospital Program

NINETEEN booths and carnival games were set up on the lawn overlooking Allentown. Cakes were spread out near a refreshment stand. Banners in a Hawaiian motif flapped overhead. The crowd, almost 900 people, walked out onto the lawn and stared at the fair grounds.

An old man looking around expectantly lifted a wooden hammer and tried to hit the block up to the bell. Another man in bedroom slippers twirled a ball on a string through the air in a whistling circle. Eight women, all wearing cotton house dresses, walked slowly by holding hands and looking at the ground.

Another man with his shirt hanging out went around shaking hands. He was obvious however, to a woman sitting on the ground, and another trying to open an orange drink with the intentness of a child.

At the edge of the lawn a man sat on a bench staring without interest out over the valley. He took off his new sunglasses to show them.

Under a tent a bingo game was in progress. A man in a sport shirt won, went to the prize table and took the bottle of after-shave lotion the nurse handed him.

Inside the large red building at the upper end of the lawn there were still 400 other people. There were bars on the windows.

The fair yesterday was no ordinary firemen's benefit carnival. It was the third annual summer carnival at the Allentown State Hospital for the mentally ill.

Monroe County Mental Health Assn. ran the ring-toss booth. Five association members gave out 1,338 prizes donated by women's groups in the county — 50 shower caps, 3,331 pieces of jewelry, 62 men's ties, 144 Hawaiian leis, 159 key chains, 33 handkerchiefs, 100 pairs of shower shoes, 176 statlery tablets and 200 fans.

Running the booth were Mrs. Stephen Moffett, Mrs. William Krummel, Mrs. Thomas Larkin, Mrs. James Cummings and Mrs. Leon Meyung. Also present was Dr. John A. Abbruzzese, association president. Mrs. Mary Henning was in charge of the gift drive.

About 40 cakes were supplied by the Monroe County Federated Women's Club — Senior Women, Junior Women, Stroud Community, Barrett Community and Hadasah. Individual work was done by Mrs. John Rumsey, Mrs. Joseph Viglione, Mrs. William Andrew and Mrs. Evan Reese.

Airport To Be Completed By September

MOUNT POCONO — Mount Pocono Airport will be completed by mid-September, the airport authority was told at its regular meeting last night.

William Townsend, engineer representing Michael Baker, Jr., said that as of July 1 the program of expansion is 30 per cent complete.

He said it is possible some seeding may have to be put over until next Spring.

Dedication Discussion

The authority discussed plans for a Fall dedication program which will include a fly-in of planes from other airports and an air show.

Plans were also discussed to contact airlines which might be interested in serving the expanded port. Also being contacted are agencies who specialize in airport operations.

R. LeRoy Dengler, chairman, named permanent committees including Improvements, operations, publicity, financing and property.

The next phase of the program at the airport will be completion of the base for paving and final grading.

Canadensis Man Back To Jail

CHARLES Bayliss, 45, Canadensis, was recommitted to Monroe County Jail yesterday for the second time in three days. He's under $1,000 bail on charges of aggravated assault and battery, also.

Bayliss was committed yesterday on charges of carrying a deadly weapon — a knife with a blade five and one-half inches long.

Clifford L. Bush, Barrett Township justice of the peace, signed the commitment. Bush said Bayliss was released from the jail Monday after paying a $33 fine and costs on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Disorderly Count

Barrett Township police arrested Bayliss Sunday on the disorderly count. They said he frightened patrons of a grocery store by entering with a loaded rifle and demanding the whereabouts of two persons. He pleaded guilty to the count at a hearing before Bush.

Bayliss has been free under bail since last March charged with aggravated assault and battery in the shotgun wounding of Lamar Price, 28, Stroudsburg. He was indicted on the charge by the May grand jury.

Frailley, outlining the steps leading to the start of actual construction said the jointure board must make a choice between the alternates before the total building cost and total value of the bond issue can be computed.

The State Department of Public Instruction must then give final approval of the bond cost, the interest rate and rental figures, Frailley said, before the bond issue can be put out for bids.

Kookan said equipment and furniture manufacturers will meet here tomorrow to go over current prices.

A letter from Ira Haupt and Co., New York City, the jointure's bonding company, thanked Supervising Principal John C. Mills for 12 pages of calculations on pupil enrollment and district finances. Because of Mill's work, the company did not feel it was necessary to send a statistician to the jointure according to custom, the letter said.

32 Fresh Air Children Arrive In Poconos

ment, wonder, surprise and anticipation when they heard from the Daily Record Photographer, that they would be staying at a turkey farm. Their little boy voices piped out with "Is we gonna EAT turkey!"

Not only were there new experiences but routine old ones as well. Boys and girls with no prejudices made friends and swapped lunches and compared suitcases. There was no holding back when it came to sharing - poppies either. As typical of youngsters, there was "rutchiness." No one was content to sit still. One little girl had a record of 15 trips to wash her hands.

There was also the constant firing of questions: "What does 'Pa.' on my identification mean?" "When will we get there?" "How much longer . . . why does it have to be so long?" "Will there be children where I'm going?" "Can we go swimming?" "I brought three bathing suits." "Just what kind of a place is this Stroudsburg?"

Yes, there is no doubt that these bathing suits will be used. Thirty-five people of the Stroudsburg area have opened their homes to these children. However, only 32 children came but next year there will be more if there are more homes.

The parents who had been waiting patiently, because the train was a half hour late, waited still patiently until their names were called out and the children were introduced to them.

The adults were grinning and appeared pleased. The children were grinning through their scared looks. In many cases lasting friendships could be seen beginning.

These next two weeks will be full of fun for the Stroudsburg families as well as for the children. The children will smile and be amazed at things they have never seen before. Objects that were merely words will come alive. The fun for the adults will come from showing these children the fresh air of life.

The children will rid their lungs of dirt and take in clean air. They will take this fresh air back to New York City for that is exactly what they are — "Fresh Air Children."

The children and their hosts in Stroudsburg are: Mrs. Anna Meixell, Stroudsburg, Gloria Cruz, Manhattan; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hobbs, RD. Stroudsburg, Jim Freeman, Manhattan and William Bizzaldi, Manhattan; Mr. and Mrs. John McConnell, Snyder'sville, Marian Kowalezyk, Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Trach, Saylorburg, Daniel Pimm, Bronx; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Surprise Marks Resignation By Richards

(Continued From Page One) perience in both engineering and administrative matters had earned him the highest respect of fellow career workers in the Highways Department at a time when the state is engaged in its biggest road-building program in history.

Secretary Park H. Martin announced Monday that Gen. Richards would resign July 15, and Gov. Lawrence immediately appointed Arthur P. Logan, former business manager of the Erie School District, to the $15,358-a-year position.

Former Gov. George M. Leader, who made the appointment, said he felt "we have secured a real asset to our administration. I consider the naming of Maj. Gen. Richards a nonpolitical appointment."

Gen. Richards, 67, expressed surprise regarding the resignation. "This is news to me," he told reporters.

The Easton man, a retired Army combat commander, was named as chief engineer of the department in February, 1955, and at that time was the only deputy secretary. More than a year ago, the department was reorganized to include four deputies and Richards became the administrative deputy.

Later, he was district Army engineer in Mississippi and was recalled to West Point to teach higher mathematics. In 1938, he became district engineer in Delaware and later commanded a combat engineers regiment in California.

From 1942-1948, he was the War Department's budget officer and controller. He then became inspector general of American forces in Europe. From 1950-1953, he was chief of the Military Assistance Advisory Group in France, coordinating military, economic and political policies. Richards holds the Distinguished Service Medal, Legion of Merit and the rank of commander in the French Legion of Honor. He retired in 1953.

We welcome the privilege of serving you as we have thousands of others in the past.

'Once More With Feeling' Wins Praise At Pocono Playhouse

By Keith Edinger
MOUNTAINHOME—A situation-type comedy was presented Monday night at Pocono Playhouse, "Once More With Feeling," by Harry Kurnitz, gave more than a few belly laughs to a very receptive audience.

Starring Vicki Cummings, Walter Brooks and David Opatoshu, "Once More With Feeling," is a jovial play concerning an egotistical musician-terrorizing symphony orchestra conductor—an ulcer-prone, riotously funny manager-agent and an equalizing "wife-harpist."

An involved plot begins to unfold when we find that Victor Fabian, our conductor, has been reduced to guest conducting one night stands because his wife Dolly Fabian has left him. Dolly had been the one equalizing force between Victor and his terrifying temperament.

In order for Victor to make big time again he must have Dolly once again at his side. Accomplishing this, it is learned that Victor and Dolly were never married. Dolly wants to marry the president of the college where she has been teaching. Richard Hilliard, beseech-es Victor to marry her so she can obtain a divorce and marry Richard.

One thing leads to another—Victor and Dolly are married—Dolly is persuaded by Victor and Maxwell Archer (Victor's manager) to temporarily aid Victor—Victor then almost seduces Dolly and enters Richard Hilliard to find his fiancée in a negligee with her husband—and at the end Dolly finds herself back in the old rut of saving Victor's neck.

As Dolly so aptly puts it, "He came to tune my Harp and stayed to fix my wagon."

The major comedy role of "Once More With Feeling" is carried mainly by David Opatoshu who portrays Maxwell Archer. Opatoshu is magnificent and displayed a great talent for comedy. His gestures, delivery and stage appearance is proof of long experience and mastery of the theater, and his role as the over-wrought manager of a monstrous conductor is characterized to the fullest.

Walter Brooks as Victor Fabian, the ego-maniac conductor, plays well the part of a forceful, demanding champion of music.

Brooke in places tends to overplay slightly—sometimes delivering his lines like that of a minister. His contenance on stage, with the slouch hat and coat-over-the-shoulder routine, would remind one of Francis X. Bushman with his dramatic appearance and show of outward egotism. However, this is as it should be and is expertly brought to the fore.

Dolly Fabian, portrayed by Vicki Cummings, is not exactly a neatly part. What good lines Miss Cummings did have she delivered very well. Her taunts concerning music and musicians brought out the fact that "Once More With Feeling" is a less than subtle slap at musicians. As Maxwell Archer put it, "Music for pleasure? I never thought of it that way."

Featured also is a wonderful characterization of Mr. Wilbur, the President of the Board of Directors of the Chicago Civic Orchestra and 65-year-old Mamma's Boy, played by Ralph Bunker. A perfect, proto-type of a music hater that acquired the Chairman-of-the-board job with the pickle business.

Excellent performances are also given by Anthony Holland, George Ebeling, Harry Bergman, and Eugene Stuckmann.

Direction by John

O'Shaughnessy is more than adequate. This was reflected in the actions of the actors—their stance, gestures and timing—timed beautifully.

Most of the action moves along at a pleasing pace... all except in the last act where things began to bog down a bit. This may be caused by the climax of the play followed by an anti-climax which is used to show Victor unchanged and Dolly exactly back where she started from.

Summing-up, "Once More With Feeling" is an enjoyable play, played by an enjoyable cast and well worth looking in on.

Ramblers Set Records For Economy

TWO 1959 Rambler six four-door sedans have established new coast-to-coast economy records in the 3,102-mile trip from Los Angeles to New York, according to Sol Rothstein, owner of Courtland Motors, 26 N. Second St., Stroudsburg.

The Rambler Six with overdrive averaged 36.83 miles per gallon and the Rambler Six with automatic transmission came up with a mark of 32.07 m.p.g. Both were stock cars equipped as those any buyer may order from a dealer, Rothstein said.

The overdrive-equipped car used only 84.11 gallons of gasoline, while the Rambler with automatic transmission consumed 96.76 gallons. Both used the recommended regular grade of gasoline.

Fuel Costs
Total fuel costs were $27.01 and $31.04, respectively, or less than a penny a mile for the overdrive car. An average automobile, obtaining 15 m.p.g., would have consumed 206.8 gallons of gas for a fuel cost of $66.38, Rothstein said.

Cruising at speeds up to 60 miles per hour, both Ramblers averaged over 40 miles per hour for the entire trip. The cars were driven an average of 400 miles per day.

Miami Orders Halt To Riot

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Law enforcement chiefs warned Monday there must be no repetition of Saturday night's street fight between Cuban partisans of Prime Minister Fidel Castro and deposed President Fulgencio Batista.

Meanwhile, City Manager Ira Willard called for a probe of the fracas' handling by Miami Police, criticized in the Havana press and by two Cuban officials. They contended they were arrested while rioters who injured them went free.

Stroudsburg Bank Enters 103rd Year

THE First-Stroudsburg National Bank reports progress and new plans. As it begins its 103rd year of continuous service to the residents of Monroe County, it is proud of the fact that it has just paid its stockholders the 195th consecutive dividend.

According to the bank president, Frank Stackhouse, the bank's deposits are up almost one million dollars over what they were just a year ago. He also stated that all indications point to a good Summer business.

The work on the bank's new Consumer Credit and Installment Loan Office is coming along satisfactorily and it should be open for business in the near future.

New Service
The bank is also ready to announce a new Gift Check and Greeting Card service.

All these new features and records of progress stem from the fact that the officers of the First-Stroudsburg National Bank are taking an objective look at the bank's services with an eye to a better packaging and better merchandising of its services.

Water From Newly Constructed Tank To Flow In Stroudsburg System Next Week

WATER FROM the new Dreher Ave. tank will begin flowing through Stroudsburg's new $800,000 water system early next week, it was announced yesterday by William A. Curnow, water department manager.

Work of filling the tank will begin tonight and is expected to continue until tomorrow night. The water is expected to be released into the mains on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

Curnow said the contents of the tank will be chlorinated and there may be a slight taste of chlorine in the water, but it will be absolutely safe for domestic use.

The water department manager said the final main project before the new system is in complete use—draining of the Fifth St. reservoir to make final hookups there—will begin Monday. It will take possibly two days.

Curnow said that when the new system is in use, there will be an announcement regarding the use of sprinklers.

At some later date, there will be an invitation extended to the public to inspect the new facilities, including the filter plant at Stokes Mills.

Too Much Care May Harm New Resilient Flooring

IF THERE is one rule for successful maintenance of the new tile and linoleum floors, it is this: easy does it.

Housewives frequently err on the side of too zealous scrubbing and too heavy waxing. Either can be harmful.

Here is some advice on maintaining this type floor based on a study of maintenance procedures by the Rubber Manufacturers Assn.

A tile floor should not be scrubbed or waxed immediately after installation. Seven days are needed for the adhesive to set tightly.

Tile floors should never be flooded with water. Spraying use of water is best at all times.

Resilient flooring manufacturers advise against using compounds containing oil or solvent bases on any type of tile. They will soften some varieties of tile and collect needless dust on others.

Day-to-day care of rubber and solid vinyl tile requires only a brushing with soft brush, non-oily mop or vacuum cleaner, supplemented by an occasional buffing. If heavy traffic gets the floor really dirty or something spills, once over it with a mop dampened in cold water will restore the bright colors. Gentle rubbing with fine 00 grade steel wool may be needed for stubborn spots.

Several times a year a thorough cleaning with a cleaner specially designed for rubber and vinyl may be followed by waxing. Two thin coats of wax are the best procedure. Only water emulsion type self-polishing wax should be used for rubber. Self-polishing or polishing types of wax may be used on vinyl.

Let the floor dry thoroughly before applying wax, and let the first coat of wax dry before applying the second. A thick coat of wax is definitely a liability which will tend to yellow the floor and does not give extra protection.

Cleaning procedures for vinyl asbestos are the same as for vinyl.

On cork floors you can use paste wax, mineral solvent liquid wax or a self-polishing emulsion wax. Cork should not be buffed until the wax is thoroughly dry.

Either paste or water emulsion type wax is suitable for linoleum.

Special caution is advised against using waxes that have naphtha, kerosene, gasoline, turpentine or mineral solvents on asphalt tile. They will soften the tile and cause colors to bleed. Use of varnish, lacquer, shellac or other plastic finishes is considered inadvisable on resilient tiles.

Two-Family Unit To Pay For Itself

THIS WEEK'S featured design, H-480, appears to be an impressive story-and-a-half home with emphasis on space. Actually, it is a two-family unit which will pay for itself over a period of time as an income dwelling.

The striking exterior is modified cape cod styling with a double front entry. Both entry are covered and lead into hallways that connect with second floor stairways.

With its majestic picture window and fireplace, the downstairs living room is exceptionally impressive. Across the main entrance hallway is the large, cheery kitchen. Second only to the living room in size, this room has ample space for a dining area opposite the cabinet-counter wall.

Two bedrooms with cross ventilation and generous floor-to-ceiling closets occupy the rear portion of the downstairs. They both have master bedroom dimensions and are convenient to the main bath. A half bath is located off the second entrance hallway.

For a story-and-a-half, the upstairs is especially large. Renting this area should prove relatively easy as accommodations are both spacious and planned for comfort.

The living room is only two feet less than its first story counterpart. In fact, it could easily fulfill the role of a living-dining area combination.

On the other hand the 100 square foot kitchen can also meet the extra space demand for a dining area or breakfast nook. Laundry facilities are provided for in this area. This arrangement will be appreciated by both tenant and landlord.

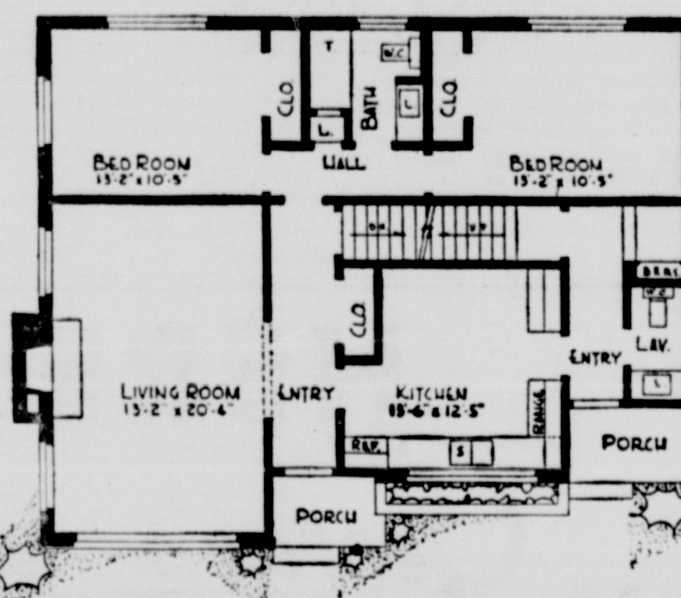

Plenty of storage facilities on both floors especially on the second level, could offset the need of a basement if the owner wanted to eliminate this extra expense.

This plan conforms to general FHA, VA and Building Code requirements. The plan contains 1,186 square feet and 31,033 cubic feet. Builder or material suppliers can give average cost per square or cubic foot in this area.

Complete building plan, including detail sheet, material list and specification guide for design number H-480 may be purchased for $9.75 for first set; two for $18.25; three for $26.25; or four for $33.75. Purchase of The Daily Record Plan Book showing 71 designs may be made for 75 cents postpaid. Address all questions and orders to HomOgraf Home Plan Department of The Daily Record, Warren, Mich.

RESORT TO ART

ONE SPOT where the bearded beatnik crowd would be out of place is in the cultural vacationland of Chautauqua, in New York state. Here culture mixes easily with family fun found at most resorts. Music and art and outdoor sport combine in a mixture of recreation and education. Chautauqua guests can make a statue or a ~~hole-in-one~~, sit at a concert, hold a fishing pole, learn to paint or set sail under canvas. There's also the 20-mile-long lake area.

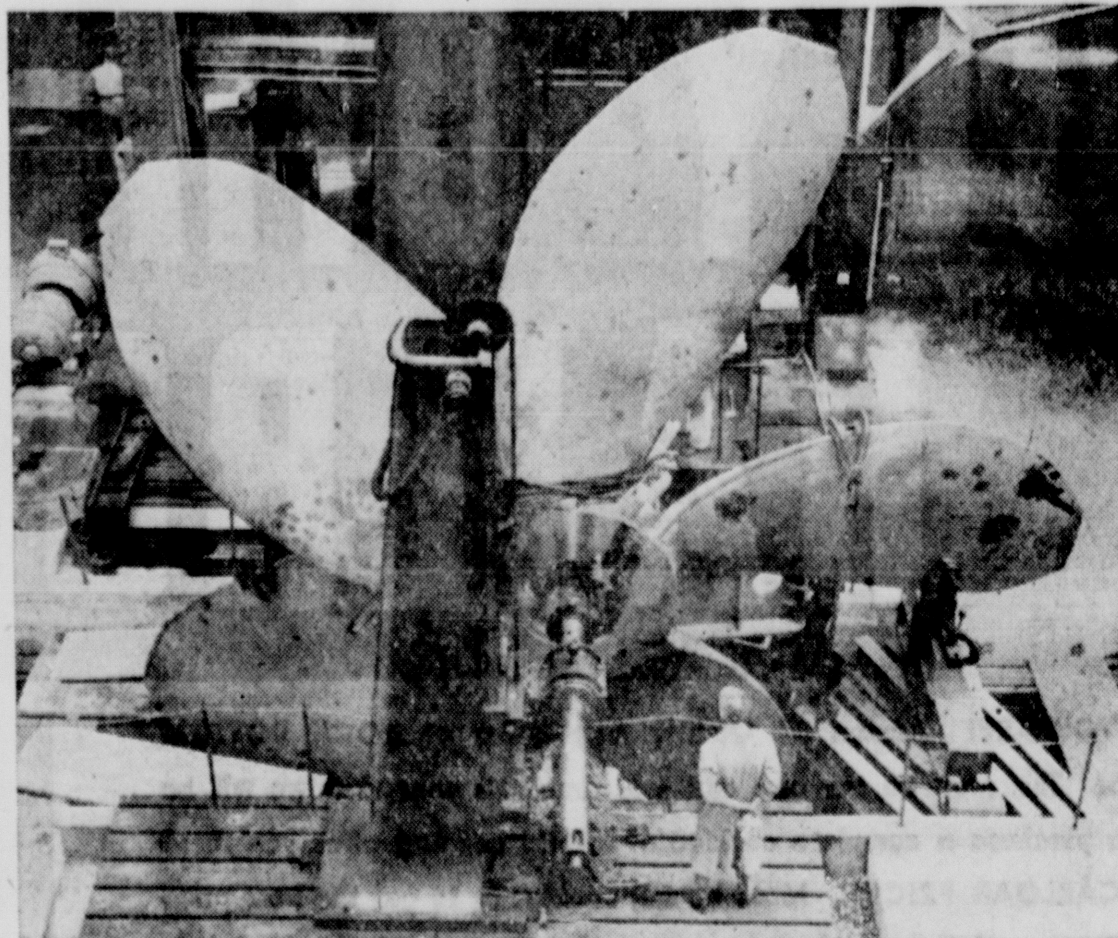

This is one of the practice shacks for musicians.

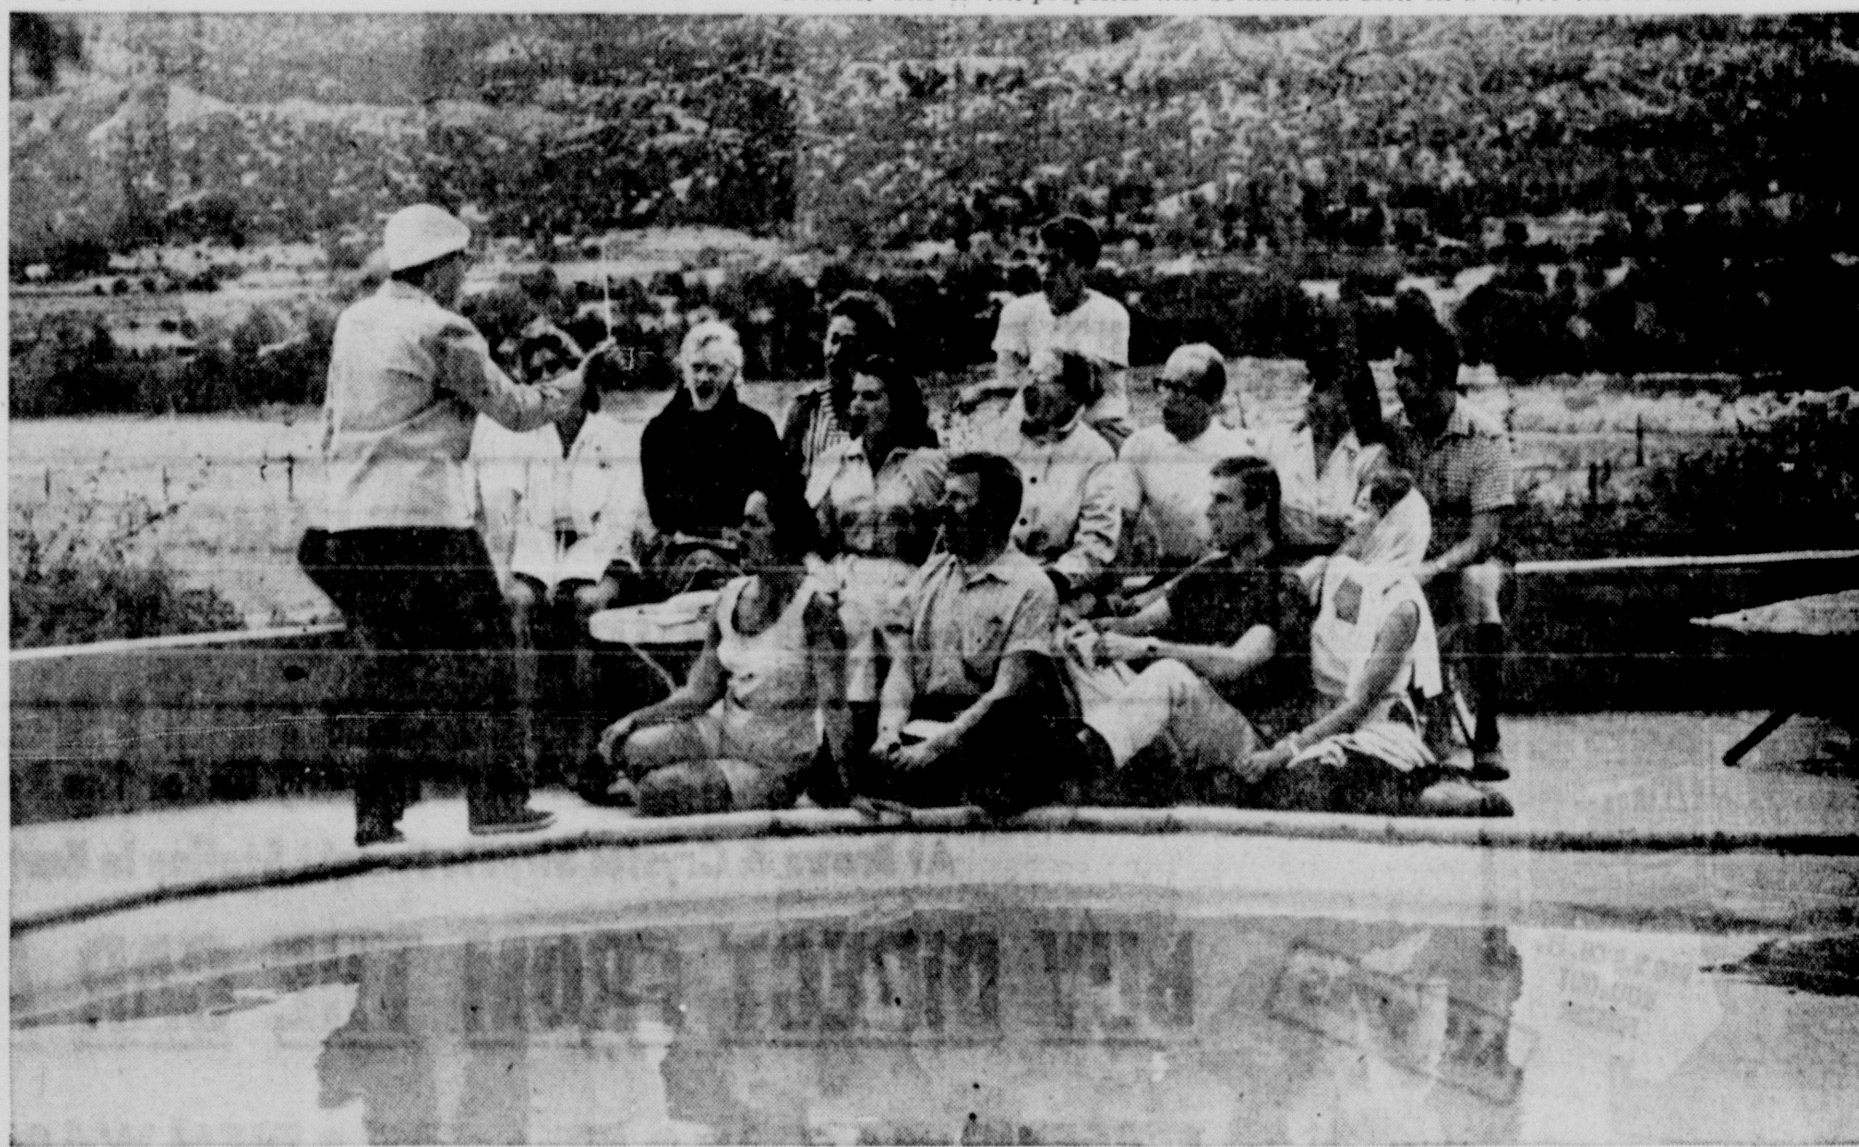

The amphitheater is filled for Sunday morning service. It seats 7,500 persons.

THEY'RE A GLEEFUL CLUB—Partially reflected in a nearby pool, the members of the Santa Fe, N. M., Opera Choral ensemble sing out loud and clear as they rehearse under the baton of Margaret Hillis. The chorus is made of apprentices from central and southwestern states.

THIS TIME IT'S A BEETLE—Fifteen-year-old Peter Finney is set to add another species to the dogs and monkeys already shot into space. Peter is going to rocket a black garden beetle from Pinner, England. His aluminum-and-tinplate missile has three motors.

Now exclusive miracle mixer brings you really better bread!

NEW, IMPROVED BATTER WHIPPED SUNBEAM

Copyright, Quality Bakers of America Cooperative, Inc., 1958

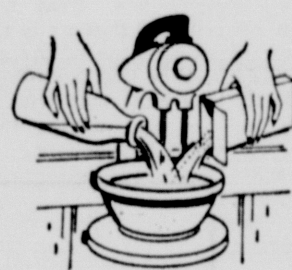

Why we took the secret from your own kitchen

You know that mixing at high speed, rather than by hand, turns out far better whipped cream. So we perfected the same high-speed method for making Sunbeam Bread. No more beating mountains of dough the slow, old-fashioned way! New Sunbeam is whipped like cream. The result is truly new and better bread.

Mixing in small batches—the key to smoothness

The batter is whipped a little at a time—as you would in your own kitchen. That's the best way to get the extra smoothness so essential to eating enjoyment. Regular bread mixed a ton at a time can't compare with new Sunbeam for uniform texture, flavor and lasting freshness.

Miracle mixer blends perfectly to bring out flavor

Our exclusive mixer mellows the batter more thoroughly and quickly than under regular mixing conditions. The fine ingredients are blended into a completely uniform mixture. You know how much thorough mixing adds to food flavor and goodness. See the difference yourself! Taste that delicious Sunbeam flavor!

COMPARE

Look...Feel...Taste...Toast

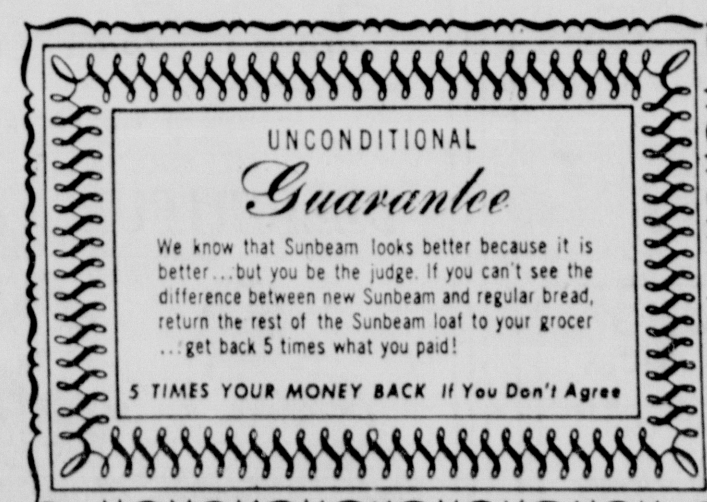

It's better because it's BATTER-WHIPPED

Just one look...and you'll see the difference—the fine, smooth texture...the perfect slices from one end of the loaf to the other.

Just one bite...and you'll discover Sunbeam's tempting flavor. Yes, Sunbeam tastes as good as it looks. You'll discover, too, that it toasts to a rich, golden-brown...that it stays fresher longer.

You'll be pleasantly surprised that Sunbeam is such an improvement over regular bread. Our miracle mixer makes Batter-Whipped bread possible...and only Sunbeam has it.

If you're not using new Sunbeam, make your comparison today. Convince yourself that Sunbeam is really better bread!

Teaching Children To Repair Toys Is Rewarding Work.

The materials and equipment can be very simple and inexpensive. It's mostly the comfort and affection you'll be giving the child that counts.

I have a pamphlet called "Playing with Children for Profit" which I'll send you if you'll send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, preferably a long one.

Remember, there are many kinds of profit besides money. If you are lonely, growing older and feeling unneeded, playing with children may be just what your life needs.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

If it were possible to please all the people at one time with the weather, yesterday was the day. Warm in the sun, cool in the shade, windy for those who like movement and excitement yet not too boisterous for those who like serenity.

The air was light enough even for asthma victims and dry enough for the rheumatically-inclined. I don't know what the pollen count was but nobody looked allergic.

But I suppose there must have been people who didn't like the weather. I can't imagine who—but there must have been somebody. On the day when a whole community agrees on any one particular thing that will be the Millennium.

Just listen to the audience during the intermission at any of our Summer theatres when the same actors saying the same lines can evoke such differing reactions.

Narrow it down to a committee meeting with a group devoted to the same goal but with as many ideas of how to achieve it as there are members.

Narrow it even further to a mother and daughter on a shopping expedition, and you realize anew how differently the same things look to different people.

As a matter of fact, I can narrow it even further to the absolute minimum of one, since I often find myself reacting to immoderate opinions on any subject with contradictory opinions of my own. Or waging an interminable war between my conscience and my inclinations.

But yesterday, I was quite at peace with myself with the company and the activities I enjoyed fitting neatly into the schedule of things I had to do.

Feminine Look Means More Marriages

Toronto (AP)—A fashion expert predicts that the return of the feminine look in new dress styles will spark an increase in the number of weddings this year in Canada.

Charles M. Halliday, market co-ordinator of the Garment Salesmen Ontario Market, has watched the Canadian Fashion scene for 35 years.

"Five years ago I accused the Canadian woman of being dowdy because the just wouldn't accept fashion," he says. "Today she is extremely fashion conscious and accepts new trends instantly."

"I predict more marriages this year than ever before with the return of the feminine look to the fashion scene."

It took the chemise and the sack to stimulate fashion interest and start the Canadian woman out of her fashion complacency, he adds.

"Now there is a terrific interest, partially sparked by a new era of fabrics and also the casual suburban way of life."

Barrett Woman Writes Of Life In Ghana, West Africa

Worawora, Ghana, is a far cry from the hills of her native Barrett and the parsonages where she spent her married life, yet Mrs. Gladys Yost, now in her 50s, is making the adjustment, and even finds a hint of home in the mountains in the world's newest nation.

Following the death of her husband, Mrs. Yost came back to Barrett to live. However, her training as a nurse and a life of service for others, led her to seek a post in a church hospital in Ghana, West Africa. She has now been in the Evangelical Presbyterian Church Hospital in Worawora since early Spring.

In a recent letter to her church board, she tells of some of her early impressions.

Food Costs High
"Since vegetables are scarce in Ghana, we rely on imported canned goods. Our food is expensive since much of it is imported or processed abroad.

Native diet is very limited and malnutrition is the cause or complicating factor in most of the illness of our hospital patients. Imported food adds greatly to the cost of diet. My food bill was two and a half times what I would have paid for the same or similar produce in the United States.

"The residences of the nurses are very well planned. All buildings of the hospital are similar: With concrete floors, windows on two sides and with good ventilation and screened.

The outside of the buildings are white and the roofs are tin. They are on a hill with a grand view of the mountains both far and near, reminding me somewhat of the range of mountains in the Poconos, except that these are steeper and the tops more peaked.

When I saw it is screened, it sounds ideal but the screening is not altogether perfect and ants, small flies, small mosquitoes and even large insects invade. Living in a tropical climate means a constant battle to hold out against bugs.

Flowers Bloom
The grounds about the hospital are cleared but have some trees, mostly nut palms which yield palm nut oil. A few pawpaws (Papaya) to us in America have been planted back of my house. Several flamboyant lilies flower in yellow and orange clusters which seed into long, green pods. The soil is red clay and unfertile.

Efforts of missionaries to grow their home seeds are often unsuccessful. However, canna flourishes and a small creeping plant, similar to our portulaca, with double cerise-colored flowers is gradually covering some of the ground. Mowing of the lawn is accomplished the hard way with boys bending low and cutting the grass tops with a machete.

The naming of children is of interest. Every baby is named for the day of the week on which it was born. The most famous is the name Kwame, the boy's name for Saturday, so all know that Kwame Nkrumah, the Ghana Prime Minister was born on that day. I was

Poplar Valley WSCS Plans August Bazaar

Poplar Valley — At the recent meeting of the Poplar Valley Women's Society of Christian Service, plans were made for the annual bazaar and supper to be held Saturday, August 29.

Mrs. Edward Dennis, president, said further plans would be announced later. Tentative plans were also made for a summer hymn sing.

Mrs. Donald Besecker led the devotions which were of a patriotic nature for the July meeting. Mrs. Fred Dennis accompanied the singing.

Proceeds from a recent strawberry festival were turned over to the Official Board of the church. Plans were made to purchase new tables and chairs for the hall.

Mrs. Paul Albert told of work done by the Methodist Hospital in Philadelphia.

After adjournment of the meeting, two recent brides, Mrs. Donald Gontz and Mrs. Claude Hoffman, were surprised by a miscellaneous shower. Each girl had some expecting as how for the other.

Mrs. Ernest Brewer and Mrs. Thomas Carson served refreshments to the following: Mrs. Paul Albert, Mrs. Warren Bond, Mrs. Donald Besecker, Mrs. Herbert David, Mrs. Edward Dennis, Mrs. Fred Dennis, Mrs. Paul Jones, Mrs. Ralph Moyer, Mrs. Donald Gontz, Mrs. Harry Williams, Mrs. Charles Hoffman, Mrs. Albert Werkheiser, Mrs. Clyde Levegood, Mrs. Norman Dennis, Debbie Werkheiser, Susan Brewer and John David.

(Special to The Daily Record from National Girl Scout Roundup) Colorado Springs, July 4—We are finally beginning to feel at home here. Everything is set up as it should be and the life of our "little" patrol is becoming exciting. Things are always going on and there's never a dull minute.

Our troop is finally beginning to know each other a little better. The Illinois patrol was our hostess patrol when we arrived, tired and hungry on Thursday. They are from Granite City, Ill. The neighboring patrol from New Jersey traveled out on the same train with us and many of them made friends with us. Newport, California, is where the fourth patrol is from. They are a Mariner Troop and they brought the mast of their ship with them. On it they have many colored flags which add a bright spot to our troop.

Photogenic Photographer
After breakfast, at which our guest was the section chief from Buffalo, N. Y., we had our troop pictures taken. The photographer was so picturesque and typical of the country with his sideburns, everybody gave him a hard time by wanting to take his picture.

At our flag-raising the new flag was raised in the midst of shutter clickings and newsreels rolling. The avenue of flags has flags of all 49 states and the foreign countries represented. It is one of the most colorful and interesting sights at the whole Round-up.

After our siesta from 2 to 3 p. m., we all decided our feet were just too dirty and washed them. The ground is so dry and sandy that it gets your feet dirty right through your socks. Our knees and arms are sunburned where our Bermudas, knickerbockers and blouses don't cover us. We try to roll down our socks to get a more even tan but as soon as a leader comes we have to get into full uniform and it's just too much trouble.

Turn Off the Hair
I've heard so much about rain that seems to come down like a faucet being turned on and off. Well ... it happened. But

The Wyckoff Shopper

The Friendly Store
AL Wyckoff
STROUDSBURG, PA.

One needn't look twice or wait to be told, to know that Richard X. Slattery and Pegen Rose are very much in love. The wonderful part of it is, they are married ... and working together—starting this week, as a matter of fact—in "Born Yesterday" at Ross Common Playhouse. Having them on our Wyckoff radio program along with Bunker Jenkins the youthful and exceptionally gifted producer, was fun ... so was the chatter over coffee later in our Wyckoff Tea Room.

Pegen's name is really her own—Irish, and selected by her mother who "must have had an idea I'd go into the theatre where an unusual name is eye-catching and easily remembered." The "X" in her husband's signature represents Xavier ... and while Mr. Jenkins has any number of stories as to how he came by the nickname "Bunker," the most logical is that his mother was quite a well known golfer, and his appearance on the scene was a bit of an obstacle for a while. So, he became "Bunker," a nickname which is so unusual it is worth its weight in gold professionally.

Pegen tells me she has any number of superstitions, as do most theatrical people. Since meeting her handsome husband, she makes it a point to kiss him, and tweak the red nose of a Vagabond doll he gave her before going on stage. Her husband admits that the kiss alone is sufficient to assure his success throughout the performance.

Bunker was telling us that one recent matinee, as Hal Holbrook was taking curtain calls in the Jenkins-produced off-Broadway performance of "Mark Twain Tonight," a woman bounded on stage and momentarily caused the actor a few anxious moments. Only too keen in actors' minds are the memories of several turbulent scenes created rather recently by theatregoers who have, for one reason or another, become emotionally triggered by the characters portrayed on stage. At first Mr. Holbrook feared for his life, particularly when the intruder kept shouting, "I'm not crazy ... I'm not crazy" She wasn't either — just in a rush to reach him before he disappeared. She wanted to schedule him for a reading before her poetry club.

Pick up your Ross Common Playhouse "discount tickets" free at Wyckoff's and, if you see "Born Yesterday" this week, make it a point to meet the Slaterrys, if possible. Ask Pegen about her meeting with primitive artist, Grandma Moses. It is a charming story.

As I write this on Monday morning, Edna Brockman, looking as pretty as a rose in a pink linen dress, breezes into advertising to say goodbye for the next few weeks. She leaves at 10 o'clock tonight from East Stroudsburg station for a Travel Bureau Tour through the Western states into Canada. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wyckoff left earlier ... but "Papa" called this morning from Buffalo to report that Mrs. Wyckoff and he will travel by Cadillac from there to Toronto, and that he has engaged limousines to transport our Wyckoff tourists around Niagara Falls and into Toronto as part of their trip.

In addition to the Wyckoffs and Edna, our excursionists include Attorney and Mrs. Arlington W. Williams, Mrs. Nelson Beers, Mrs. Harry M. Albert, Mrs. C. C. Scholla, Miss Selma Ruster, Mrs. Alfred Kent, Mrs. Frank Mitchell (that's Helen, our store cashier), Miss Ida B. Shafer of Mountainhome; Mr. and Mrs. Jay Young and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Yetter of Newton, N.J. and Mrs. W. W. Wyckoff of East Orange, N. J.

Newton Man's Body Found In Delaware

NEWTON—The body of Ralph Scudder, 21, of 61 Railroad Ave., Newton, who drowned in the Delaware River Sunday, was released yesterday to the Smith Funeral Home here.

Scudder's body was recovered by troopers from the New Jersey State Police skin diving unit at about 1 p.m. Monday at the spot where he disappeared, about one and one-half miles north of the Dingmans Ferry bridge.

Scudder went under about 110 feet from shore as he was apparently attempting to swim across the river. He was not a good swimmer, two companions told authorities.

Richard Morley, 14, of 2 Howard St., and Lanny Kays, 13, of 65 Railroad Ave., both of Newton, said that shortly after they arrived at the swimming spot with Scudder, he boasted that he could swim across the river.

State police from the Hainesville substation said that the spot where the three were swimming is along property owned by Alonzo DePue in Sandyston Township, Sussex County, off the Camp Kittatinny road.

Police placed the time of the drowning at 12:30 p.m. They said Scudder was probably pulled down by an undercurrent at a point where the river is approximately 20 feet deep.

Rescue squads searched the area until close to 11 o'clock Sunday. The squads were from Hackettstown, Roxbury - Stanhope, Cranberry Lake, Frankford Township in Sussex County and Port Jervis, N. Y.

Scudder was the son of Mrs. Martha Scudder and the late Carl Scudder, who died last May. In addition to his mother, he is survived by two brothers, Carl and Robert, both at home and a stepbrother, Raymond Smith.

34,763 See Nationals Defeat Americans, 5-4

Antonelli Winner On Six Pitches

Willie's smash sailed over the head of Detroit's Harvey Kuenn in right center. The ball bounced against the scenic wall near the 438-foot mark while Aaron dashed home with the winning run. The San Francisco center fielder reached third—and stayed there. A paid attendance of 35,277—full capacity—was announced although only 34,763 showed up at Forbes Field on this perfect afternoon. They watched Los Angeles' Don Drysdale throw three perfect innings at the Americans and saw Lew Burdette of Milwaukee give up only one run—a homer by Al Kaline of Detroit in the fourth—during his three-inning stint.

Duren Tough
After Chicago's Early Wynn, the American starter, yielded a first-inning homer to Milwaukee's Ed Matthews, he settled down and allowed no more scoring during his three-inning workout. Ryne Duren, the Yankees' fireballing relief man, whirled through three shutout innings, leaving with the score tied at 1-1 after six innings.

The Nationals broke the tie by ripping into Jim Bunning of Detroit for two runs in the seventh. After Ernie Banks of Chicago collected his second double, Bunning retired the next two batters. Then Del Crandall of Milwaukee bounced a first pitch into center, scoring Banks. Bill Mazeroski of Pittsburgh singled scoring Crandall but the Pirate second baseman was out trying to stretch his hit into a double.

Elroy Face, Pirate relief pitcher, had racked up two easy outs in the eighth before the Americans started to roll. Nellie Fox of Chicago singled, Harvey Kuenn of Detroit walked and Vic Power of Cleveland singled to score a run. Then 40-year-old Ted Williams of Boston, a pinch hitter, walked to lead the bases.

Triandos Doubles
Gus Triandos, the Baltimore catcher, doubled down the left field line scoring Kuenn and Power and putting the American

Passed Ball Gives Hotel 6-5 LL Win

A PASSED BALL with one out in the last inning enabled Tommy Panza to score the winning run and give Penn-Stroud Hotel a 6-5 victory over First National Bank in a Stroudsburg Little League game last night.

The tainted run broke up a good pitching duel between Haney of the Bankers and Morekin of the Hotel nine. Each pitcher whiffed 14 batters. Morekin helped his own cause with two hits.

The big blow of the game was provided by Barry Hauser of the Bank when he homered over the left field fence. For Hauser, who also had two other hits, it was his third circuit wallop. Haney had a double and two singles.

HIT HOMERS—Eddie Matthews, (left), Milwaukee third baseman, and Al Kaline, Detroit outfielder (right), belted home runs for their respective teams in the American and National All-Star game in Pittsburgh yesterday.

Team Victory All The Way, Haney Sums Up NL Verdict

PITTSBURGH (AP)—"It was a team victory all the way." That was Milwaukee Manager Fred Haney's comment in the dressing room Tuesday after guiding the National League to a 5-4 victory over the American League in the 26th All-Star game.

"It's difficult to single out any one player although there was some pretty fine pitching and defensive work. That second baseman of ours, Johnny Temple, did a good job. But so did all of the players."

In the eighth inning, trailing by one run, Haney's strategy paid off when pinch-hitter Ken Boyer of St. Louis led off with a single and pinch-hitter Dick Groat of the Pittsburgh Pirates sacrificed. A moment later Hank Aaron knocked in the tying run with a sharp single and Willie Mays drove him home with the payoff marker on a booming triple.

"Good strategy," Haney laughed. "Well, when you're a baseball manager and your strategy works you are a genius."

"When it doesn't work, look out!"

Aaron Beaming
Aaron, named to the team by the only unanimous vote of his National League mates, was beaming all over the dressing room. In addition to his timely eighth inning hit he had a sharp single in the sixth. And he came through with a fielding gem in the fourth inning when he gathered in Gus Triandos' line drive for an extra base hit with two on and two out.

"Boy, I was hitting the ball harder than I had for the last three weeks," said Hank. "That fly I caught off Triandos' bat was hit hard but I was pretty sure I would get it and I did, thank goodness."

Mays, in typical Mays fashion, didn't have much to say about his game-winning blow.

"Just say I hit a fast ball and I hit it pretty good," he summed it up.

How they stand
Both Fox and Kuenn hit long fouls into the stands.

Marvin's Nip Lions, 14-13

MARVIN'S TV put over three runs in the last inning to pull out a 14-13 victory over Barrett Lions in a Pocono Little League game last night.

M. Mikels, the last of two pitchers used by the Tvers, got the win over Vassallo in which wildness prevailed. All three pitchers gave up 21 walks.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Adventists List Plans For Campaign

THE EAST Pennsylvania Conference of Seventh-day Adventists today announced plans in an "every church member" campaign against the distribution and sale of pornographic literature.

The youth department of the church in Pennsylvania is taking the lead in the plan which would aid to curb the flow of morally degrading literature through newsstands, drug stores, supermarkets, and transportation terminals.

Announcement of the plan took place during the annual summer conference of Pennsylvania Seventh-day Adventists at Westonsville, assembly grounds for the church.

In yesterday's announcement Edmund H. Peterson, of Takoma Park, Md., director of youth activities of the Columbia Union Conference of Adventists, said, "We are asking that church young people use their influence in talking with other young friends about stopping the flow of indecent literature."

Urge Friends
"We are asking that our own church young people urge their friends to refuse to pick up and read this bad literature whenever they see it, and that they courteously ask the owners that stock smut to stop handling such material," he said.

He continued, "We expect to operate within a framework of Christian courtesy, but we do expect that the example of thousands of people who are sincerely interested in removing this morally dangerous material from the eyes and minds of our youth will not be taken lightly."

Youth and school officials are directing all teachers to "use influence with other educational friends to create an atmosphere of cleanliness in the classroom."

"While the church and the home can be decisive factors in this all-out campaign," he said, "there will probably be nothing conclusive unless the school joins with these other outworks—the home and church—against evil in combating this problem."

Current Statistics
Peterson said that current statistics show that a $500-million-a-year mail order business in pornographic and obscene material is being sent through the United States mails by "merchants of filth."

The visiting youth leader suggested plans of action: If you receive obscene or pornographic material in the mail, do two things. Save all the materials you receive, including the envelope and all enclosures. Report the receipt of the matter immediately to your local postmaster, along with the material you have received. A letter of complaint should accompany the material—a signed letter.

He suggested bills be introduced in the state legislature of Pennsylvania which would "make it a misdemeanor to sell obscene materials to young people."

It is the church's duty to uphold proponents of bills of this kind in its interest to remove evil from young minds. He also urged that special committees be set up in local churches whose duty it is to "report the presence of obscene literature in the community."

Art Center Made For Every Family Member

EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the last of two articles dealing with art and culture in Monroe County and in the Pocono Mountains.

By David Ottaway

THE POCONO Art Center, although not yet a month old, is already making its mark on the art scene within the area.

Main purpose of the Center is participation and instruction in any of a number of creative activities. Nearly every conceivable form of art is practiced there.

Painting, sculpture, weaving, pottery, crafts, metal work, puppetry, and a writer's and player's workshop are all featured in the center's program. Experience is not necessary prerequisite but rather an imaginative mind and a desire to learn.

Behind the Center stands a nucleus of enthusiastic teachers. Ready to bring the Mountain to Mohammed, they have set the tone for the organization. Marcia DeRocco, Mrs. Francis Kiffin, George Johnson, Don Susich, John DeRocco, Frank Buchanan, Sue Abrams, Helen Kollmeyer and Mrs. Wesley Crowther are leaders of the various art groups.

The Center owes its existence to a stroke of good fortune and the initiative of Marcia DeRocco who has been the temporary mainstay behind the Center.

It was simply good luck that the Indian Queen Hotel was available this Summer for trial run to some sort of permanent art center. The cooperation of Eric Schuchard, manager of the Penn-Stroud Hotel, and Mrs. Gerald O'Neill, owner of the property, was essential to the program.

Given the physical setting, it was Marcia DeRocco who mobilized local talent and teachers into the new setting. To her mind, the project under foot is a long range one to prepare the community for a greater acceptance and utilization of the arts through education of the youth.

Yet it is not the youth alone that the Center is or should serve.

Sterling Strauser, a professional painter of national renown living in East Stroudsburg, had aptly stated the case. "Creative satisfaction is the concern of the entire family, and no one need pay it more attention than the culturally isolated businessman."

There are plans afoot now for the establishment of a do-it-yourself shop where men can utilize their natural abilities in the creative field. Metal work with solder and iron has already begun.

Thus word has traveled by newspaper, radio and often word of mouth of the surrounding community. In the past month over 100 memberships have been taken out in the Center. The children's program seems especially active which in itself is an encouraging sign for art in the future.

In a world of increasing tensions, the therapeutic value of artistic endeavor should not be underestimated. Though modern art is still highly controversial, it has brought with this controversy the possibility of greater numbers working with paints and color arrangement. Personal indignation at abstract construction viewed in the Stroudsburg Art Shows has brought a valuable discussion of art to the public. This is a community of growing interest in the arts and their meaning.

The present Art Center is by no means a guarantee for a permanent art center. Lack of money is already hampering progress and the possibility of having a home after the Indian Queen Hotel is no longer available this Fall is right now uncertain.

Another serious consideration that the Art Center must face is whether or not it will continue with the same sense of purpose and unity that dominates the essential nucleus of teachers right now. If splinter groups should develop, and the first signs of this are in evidence at present, then the Art Center could lose its effect as a meeting ground and a place of cultural exchange and appreciation.

One of its primary values to the community is, and should be, its potential to stimulate people to attempt new forms and mediums of creation. If the various groups separate from a center then the isolation of talent and interest, which the Center hopes to overcome, would again threaten the growth of the movement.

While the Art Center has its problems to face in the future, it also has real possibilities for becoming a dynamic force in the community.

Outdoor Art Show Opens On Friday

THE POCONO Mountains Art Group is sponsoring its first 1959 Summer Outdoor Art show on Friday and Saturday at Court House Square, Stroudsburg.

Amateurs and professionals, whether members of the group or not, are invited to participate, as are non-residents and guests of the Poconos.

Framed or Unframed

Pictures may be framed or unframed and in any media. Exhibitors should bring camp chairs, clothesline, easels and anything to make their stay comfortable.

The registration fee is one dollar and is payable on entry. This fee includes any number of pictures for both days.

Group members anticipate between 75 and 100 exhibitors with upwards of 800 paintings on display. All works will be for sale. Artists will demonstrate painting on both days.

New Show To Open At Art Center

A NEW show, an International Art Show, is being hung at the Pocono Art Center in the Indian Queen Hotel, and the opening will take place Saturday at 8 p.m.

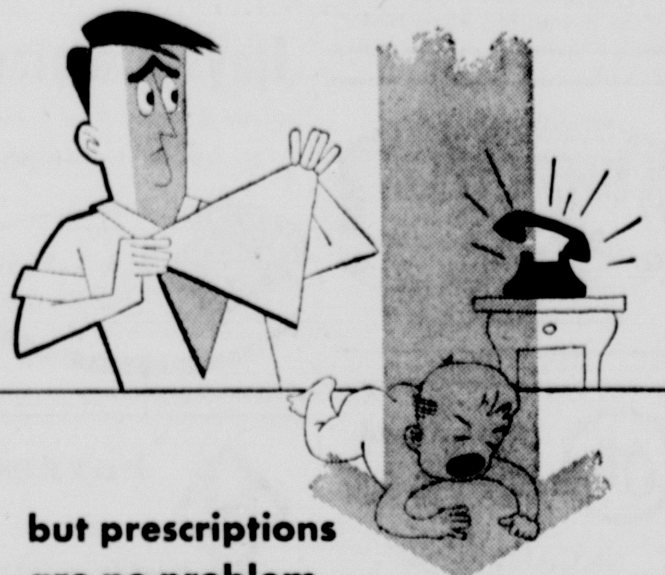

There will be original paintings from Europe, Asia, South America and North America.

Collection

A collection of paintings from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil by Oswaldo Teixeira and another by Saboia de Lima, Peru. These seven paintings are from the private collection of Jesse Thaler, New York City.

Governor Offers Praise For Center

THE POCONO Art Center recently gained state wide fame as a letter of endorsement came from Governor David L. Lawrence.

Gov. Lawrence said in this letter that "The idea you (Mrs. Marcia DeRocco) have outlined in your recent letter is excellent. I firmly believe in the theory of helping young people to develop their talents wherever and however possible."

"I wish you well in your efforts and if I may be of any specific assistance I hope you will feel free to call upon me."

Explanation

His letter came in answer to Mrs. DeRocco's who wrote explaining the intentions and program of the Art Center.

"Our basic idea is to offer specialized help to the teenage group who soon will be citizens of our community. . . We feel that the gold of our community does not lie in the bank but lies in the potential development of our children. We are bending all our efforts to form a strong center where the children of the towns may gain cultural and technical knowledge and will emerge a more highly trained and sensitive citizen."

Services For Mrs. DePue

BANGOR—Services for Mrs. Elizabeth H. (Bessie) DePue, 73, widow of Harry DePue, will be held at the Miller Funeral Home Thursday at 2 p.m. Mrs. DePue, who resided in Richmond, died Saturday in the Monroe County General Hospital, East Stroudsburg.

Rev. William Cameron, pastor of the Richmond Methodist Church, will officiate. Interment will be in Church Hill Cemetery, Martins Creek.

INEXPERIENCE IS TOO EXPENSIVE

Is the executor that you have in mind for your estate as experienced as the trust officers of Monroe Security Bank & Trust Company? . . . Does his day's work consist of handling estates? . . . Will he always be available? . . . Will he be sure to live long enough to see your estate through to its conclusion?

If you cannot honestly answer "Yes" to each of the questions above, Monroe Security Bank & Trust Company suggests that you make a date to confer with them and with your lawyer about setting up your estate for the maximum of efficiency . . . experience . . . and continuity of management.
